Service Learning Grants Available

The National FFA Organization is launching a new grant series beginning with the 2017-2018 school year. Grant funding will support more diverse service focus areas that include community safety; environmental responsibility; hunger, health and nutrition; and community engagement.

The Living to Serve Community Development Grant series provides an opportunity for FFA chapters (middle school, high school or alumni) and state FFA associations/foundations to seek funding to support various types of service projects.

Visit the link at left for more information. The first deadline is June 15.
